

GENERAL MEETING

Diane Fechenbach presented Vicki Tucker's name to the membership at the general meeting, which was well received.

The upcoming WFWS 45th exhibit will be held in Boise, Idaho beginning June 4 through July 26, 2020. The deadline for entry is December 10th and the prospectus will eventually be uploaded on the CWS website.

Beatrice Trautman announced the idea of a "pizza" party for the September meeting.

Gene Youngman reported on the success of the Chatfield Botanical Gardens paint-out. He presented a slide show of some of the participants.

Sandy Day Selbert announced the Crested Butte workshop on August 3rd with artist Peggy Stenmark as presenter of "mountain landscapes."

Due to inclement weather in May, the Board election was pushed back to this month - June.. Carol presented the slate of candidates for the new board.

Linden Kirby made a motion to accept the slate and Gene Youngmann seconded it. Jay Breese as Parliamentarian had already received 120 votes by email in favor of the slate. 28 of those present at the meeting then also voted in favor of the slate, so the new Board was approved unanimously.

The meeting was adjourned and current CWS member and artist Pat Fostvedt conducted a critique for all those who brought a painting.
